

East Midlands at the Royal Albert Hall

In June, founder members of EMDP joined together to produce a spectacular show at the Albert Hall called Colour in Motion. The East Midland Region was represented by a team of Michael Jackson lookalikes in a fast and dynamic item produced by Jackie Stocchino.

Jackie, who has long admired MJ's innovative dance moves, incorporated many of his most famous ones in a KFA tribute to the King of Pop. Clearly a hit with the RAH audience, the team was invited to repeat their performance at the National AGM held in Darlington in October and despite last minute changes to the team, they once again, showed that when it comes to strutting our stuff – the East Midlands know how to do it. .

Congratulations Jackie and well done the team for making this a truly memorable item.

The team has been invited to perform again at the Members Day in Lincolnshire and, of course at our East Midlands Regional AGM in November
